

Susan B. Bentley

LEADERSHIP COACH

SPEAKER AND PODCAST GUEST

Susan B. Bentley is a leadership and life coach, helping high achieving women leaders in tech to get clear on what they really want from their careers so they can have an impact in their jobs, regain their confidence and be hella less stressed

With her magnificent mission of the eradication of gender inequality in the workplace for women leaders and managers, she believes big change can happen through everyone's individual actions and, by becoming a role model as a woman in leadership, her clients can cheer-lead and empower others to do the same.

Suse is a Gold Tier #IamRemarkable facilitator and has participated in the UN Women's Commission on the Status of Women as a UN Women UK Delegate.

Suse is a film geek, fangirl and live music lover who is always happy to have a chat over coffee and cake.
